Charles Bloom, Director of Planning and Development, explained that since the property is already developed, the location has no bearing on the annexation and if there is any contamination it is the landowner's responsibility. Mr. Cox noted they have a meeting with the airport director later this week about submitting an application for a retail liquor license. Support for the business at the airport was expressed. Upon inquiry, Kris Jones, City Clerk, explained the retail liquor license must be applied for by the airport and the airport can contract with one entity for food and beverage services.
